Time: 1:00pm

Place: Monmouth County Library Eastern Branch 1001 Route 35, Shrewsbury, NJ

George Gershwin, raised on the Lower East Side, was one of the most popular composers of the early 20th century. He wrote songs known the world over such as “I’ve Got a Crush on You”, “Someone to Watch Over Me” and “Embraceable You”. Gershwin composed the music for many Broadway shows as well as for films such as “Shall We Dance” starring Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers and featuring the song “They Can’t Take That Away From Me”. These songs, along with a great collection of Gershwin classics are featured in this show.

*Barbara McCarthy is an actor and singer.
